

Susan Zhu, Master degree in marketing of Durham University, well-known low carbon economist, leading innovator in low carbon industry, candidate of the Social Impact Award of Education UK Alumni Awards, CEO of Shanghai Treasure Carbon New Energy Environmental Protection Technology Co., Ltd. (TC), candidate of the Social Impact Award of Education UK Alumni Awards, the low-carbon expert of Hong Kong Financial Services Institute and the board

As one of the leaders of low-carbon industry and the leader of carbon finance innovation in China, Susan Zhu has been dedicated in building a complete industrial chain from carbon assets development and management to carbon finance. She did the first CCER hypothecation, issued the first carbon trust plan, and established the first and by far the largest carbon fund in China. In 2015, she led the TC team to complete the first transaction of China's carbon market successfully, which is a milestone for the development of China's carbon market. She was often invited to attend and speak at the World Climate Conference, Davos World Economic Forum and other international conferences as the representative of Chinese entrepreneurs of low-carbon industry to tell the world "China's voice".

She is also an influential philanthropist. In the name of TC or herself personally, she's been actively taking part in charity for the sake of mitigating climate change, and constantly supporting charity programs of NGOs both at home and abroad like CAPS and Smiles Foundation.
