

Background

David Chang

Education:

Stanford University MS in Management Science & Engineering

Stanford University BS in Computer Science

Work Experience:

Tigillus Holdings (personal family office holdings) sole owner

Developed Bitcoin mining facilities and mine with both proprietary and outside investors' machines, created a trading company engaged in the business of trading crypto mining equipment, created a platform providing miners to real time manage mining progress and financial services around mining

Manage long short China macro equity fund with a dedicated trading team

Manage a real estate portfolio of student housing in US and UK

Chang & Hsieh (family office holdings) director, trustee

Initiated a niche investment portfolio into cold chain logistics real estate and data centres

Managed real estate portfolio of properties in Mainland China and successfully exited Chinese properties markets and invested into commercial real estate in the US. Developed US properties in student housing, multi family housing, and healthcare

Managed food production in China and upstream supply of raw materials from farms in Australia

KKR Asia buyout fund vice president, associate

Worked on acquisition and consolidation of cables companies in Taiwan, acquisition and exit of agricultural deals in China

Goldman Sachs IBD FIG analyst